MP: I'VE PAID BACK £2,782

BILL RAMMELL: "I fully recognise how much damage has been done to public confidence by the expenses crisis"

HARLOW MP Bill Rammell has repaid almost £3,000 of the money he received in Parliamentary expenses.

Mr Rammell was ordered to pay back £2,782 he claimed for newspapers, printing materials, a garden table and a suitcase.

The sum was outlined in a letter sent to him by Sir Thomas Legg, the former civil servant who was asked by the Government to audit the claims of all MPs following the expenses scandal that rocked Parliament this summer.

As the Star reported back in June, edited details of Mr Rammell's expense claims revealed he had claimed a total of £14,575 for redecoration, refurbishment, furniture and electrical goods between June 2004 and March 2006.

Individual items he claimed for under the Additional Costs Allowance included a new bathroom suite, a bed, mattresses, carpets and even a kitchen sink.

This week Mr Rammell said: "I have been asked by the Legg review to repay £2,782 for four years' claims for newspapers, printing materials, a garden table and a suitcase and I have repaid

chris.moss@hertsessexnews.co.uk

this immediately. I have always claimed within the rules and been in the bottom 25 per cent of claimants.

"The Legg review has retrospectively reinterpreted and changed the rules, but I have willingly agreed to abide by his decision as I fully recognise how much damage has been done to public confidence by the expenses crisis."

Mr Rammell's main political opponent in Harlow, Conservative Parliamentary candidate Robert Halfon, said he hoped the Legg review would now draw a line under the expenses scandal and shift the focus onto the "real" issues facing the town.

"While it's important that we scrutinise MPs' expenses to make sure the system is not abused, there are really pressing problems affecting Harlow and the rest of the country that need addressing," he told the Star.

"I just hope the focus can now shift onto the Government's mishandling of the economy, the huge rise in unemployment and the number of shops and businesses going bankrupt – all important issues Labour need to be held to account for."

Shadow chancellor given tour of engineering firm

SHADOW Chancellor George Osborne pledged to "get Harlow working" if the Conservatives win the general election when he visited the town on Tuesday.

Depraved dad jailed for rape and incest

A MAN who subjected his daughter to decades of sexual abuse and fathered two children by her has been branded "wicked and depraved" by a judge.

The 68-year-old, who lives in Harlow but who cannot be named to protect the identity of the victim and her children, was jailed for 12 years for incest, rape and indecent assault.

"You dragged your daughter into a grotesque fantasy world of your wicked making," he was told by Judge David Turner. "You held her in your psychological grip, limiting her freedom, her movements and other relationships, curtailing her autonomy, exploiting her vulnerability, conditioning compliance."

The defendant, who changed his plea

By COURT REPORTER
star@hertssexnews.co.uk

to guilty on the day his trial was due to start at Chelmsford Crown Court back in August, smiled at his daughter as he was led from the dock on Thursday, but she did not respond.

The man pleaded guilty to 18 charges covering a 33-year period from July 1971 to July 2004, including two of incest, two rapes, 12 indecent assaults and two counts of indecency with a child.

Prosecutor Samantha Leigh told the court that sexual activity began when the girl was just seven and continued until she was 40 when she managed to move out of the home they shared with the two children.

Her ordeal only came to light last year when she finally told a friend who urged her to report the abuse to police.

Miss Leigh said the woman had been conditioned to accept the abuse as normal. He had even instigated sexual activity under a towel while the family were on a beach holiday and got the family dog to perform an indecent act on her when she was about 10.

When he was arrested in December the defendant told police that a sexual relationship had begun when his daughter was around 20 years old and that it was with her consent.

Miss Leigh told the court: "It would happen regularly - about three times a week - but her memory of that is because she was so young she just remembers it being all the time."

"As she got older it became harder and more embarrassing to tell someone. He would make it extremely difficult for her if she didn't comply."

The court was told DNA tests had established that he was the father of his daughter's children. He told her after the eldest was born: "You can go on and have a football team as far as I'm concerned."

When she finally succeeded in moving out he threatened to tell the children who he really was, a threat he carried out last August when he screamed the confession through the letterbox just weeks before she complained to police.

Neil Fitzgibbon, representing the defendant, said in mitigation: "Upon his release from prison he will cut a very sad, isolated figure as an old man. All those one would expect to be dear to him have now departed from him."

He said the man's health was not good. He had hearing aids, few teeth, asthma and was undergoing tests for a growth in his neck.

Mr Fitzgibbon added that the defendant had no criminal convictions and was not dangerous to the public.

Firefighter returns from Sumatra quake mission

A FIREFIGHTER who travelled to Indonesia as part of a specialist search and rescue team to help find survivors of the earthquake that devastated the island of Sumatra spoke this week of his experiences.

Gary Wootton (50), of Spring Hills, Harlow, was one of seven Essex firefighters flown out to the disaster zone in the wake of the tragedy which is thought to have claimed more than 800 lives.

The team landed in the Sumatran capital of Padang and almost immediately set off on a three-hour trek to one of the worst-hit villages.

"As we were driving along the road there were shell-shocked people coming up to the vehicle begging for help," Mr Wootton, pictured right, told the Star. "But it wasn't until we reached our destination that we realised the full scale of the tragedy."

"Where there had once been a large village with a population of over 300 people there was nothing but a muddy expanse with bits and pieces of broken timber. Everything had been wiped out."

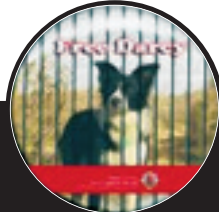

The team initially despatched their rescue dog Darcy to look for any signs of life but when she failed to pick up a scent they spread out to search the site, which Mr Wootton described as being the size of four football pitches.

"It soon became clear to us that there were no survivors," he said. "The village was at the foot of a mountain, and following the earthquake the whole area had subsided and been covered by mud. It was little more than a mass grave."

"It was an incredibly sobering experience. You could imagine how the village might have looked before it was destroyed, set against a beautiful backdrop of lush vegetation and mountains, but now there was nothing left."

Frustrated in their rescue efforts, the team returned to their base and spent the rest of their stay distributing supplies and medicine to schools and hospitals trying to cope with the increasing human cost of the tragedy.

"One thing I will always remember about the trip is the incredible resilience of the people. Many of them have lost friends and relatives, others everything they own, but still they seem to bounce back defiantly. Their strength is incredible."

ESSEX fire chiefs are calling on the public to support their campaign to free rescue dog Darcy from confinement under quarantine rules.

Darcy, who was taken to Sumatra with her handler John Ball and six other members of Essex County Fire and Rescue Service as part of the 65-strong UK search and rescue team, is currently being held in solitary confinement at quarantine kennels in Stanway.

She will have to spend the next six months in a tiny pen and without John who has been with her since she was a puppy.

"Darcy has a Pet Passport but Indonesia is outside Europe and therefore doesn't participate in the scheme so she has to go into quarantine," said John.

"The quarantine laws are out of date. Darcy has been inoculated against rabies and there are tests that can be taken to ensure she is not infected before she is released. Despite this, and her special place as a valuable rescue dog, she has to stay put."

More than 400 people have already signed up to a Free Darcy page on the social networking site Facebook.

Day the Prince asked Lynda if she enjoyed a game of bingo

By LOUISE SASSOON
star@hertsessexnews.co.uk

NOT many people can say they have rubbed shoulders with a member of the Royal Family, let alone had a conversation with one.

But one Star reader did just that when the firm where she was employed was visited by Prince Charles during the 1970s.

Lynda Benson was working at Corsor when HRH flew in to visit the electronics firm, an occasion reported in the company newsletter which was featured in the pages of Nostalgia a couple of weeks ago.

Our report brought back memories for Mrs Benson who was lucky enough to be asked a direct question by the Prince . . . about her bingo-playing habits.

"We all saw him land in the helicopter and then we rushed to our departments to get ready for his visit," said Mrs Benson.

"We were all excited and the atmosphere that day was great. Not much work got done though.

"Before he came around I was thinking about what I would say if he asked me about radar and microfilming. Then he came over, shook my hand and said 'Do you play bingo?'

"I was completely shocked and just said 'No, do you?' He laughed and walked off.

"All my friends were laughing and they all thought it was hilarious but it was so embarrassing. All my family and friends laughed about it too.

"It will stay with me forever, though and I will always think why did I say that?"

The Prince visited every department at the firm, including the area where work on the company's radar equipment was made. He needed the information for a meeting he was having later in the week.

Mrs Benson added: "He was there quite a while really. It was a lovely day."

ANOTHER week and another old photograph of some of Harlow's musical youth.

This picture has been lent to us by The Museum of Harlow and shows children playing instruments at the Latton Green Music School in 1985.

But do any readers remember the photograph being taken or any the people in it? If so, please contact the Star in the usual fashion so that we can put a few names to the faces.

Company to bring in 80 jobs

Mirror-silvering company Bowman Webber has announced it is moving to Harlow, bringing with it at least 80 new jobs. The 40-year-old company is moving into a factory at Templefields.

Proud MP's new baby daughter

Harlow MP Jerry Hayes and his wife, Alison, proudly showed off their six-day-old baby daughter to Star readers. Francesca Julia weighed in at 8lb 2oz. Mother, baby - and father - were all smiling when picture editor Anthony Gregory called in to snap them at the Rosie Maternity Hospital in Cambridge.

Vans destroyed in arson attack

Police are hunting arsonists who destroyed two vans worth £22,000 at Kennings Car Hire in Staple Tye. The flames reduced a Bedford box van and a Bedford Sherpa to blackened shells within a matter of minutes.

Bosses ignore IT implications

Nine out of 10 of the region's top secretaries do not feel threatened by new office technology, according to a survey. But eight out of 10 secretarial and personal assistants surveyed believe bosses were endangering their own job by not realising the implications of information technology.

I'm disappointed that I won't get wheelie bins

SIR, I feel very alone in Harlow at the moment. Am I the only resident disappointed that I will not be getting wheelie bins?

I was looking forward to not having to go outside every day to clean up the rubbish that has come out from the split black sacks opened by cats and foxes. I was also looking forward not to have to spend double on black sacks because of that problem.

I have been really pleased for some time about the impending arrival of said bins so I was very disappointed to be told last week that we will not receive them because there is not enough room for residents to put them.

I think this could have been managed a lot better and residents in certain areas which were in question consulted. We have been told for months to prepare for the bins and the week before the scheme commences I'm told that I will not be having them. Maybe I'm selfish because I have a drive and adequate room for the wheelie bins but I have always felt that it is a good idea. No more chicken bones on pavements or recycling flying around out of those horrible bags.

However, the organisation (or lack of it) is appalling and must have cost the council a considerable amount of extra money, not to mention the money wasted on wheelie bins already ordered.

Caroline Carter
Peterswood, Harlow

SIR, This week I received a letter from the council telling me my new bins will be delivered the first week in November.

As I live in a townhouse with no frontage I'd like to know where I will put these new bins. Most of the people in my street have two cars so any space will be taken up with these vehicles and as we have no rear entrance again where do we put them?

I understand the idea is to reduce landfill and increase recycling. If this scheme works, will my council tax be reduced? I don't think so.

As I recycle what I can I only have about half a bag of general rubbish a week, so why do I need a 180-litre bin. It seems a waste to me. The cost of this scheme could have been better used to save some more important services.

The truth about Tory fiscal policy

SIR, Robert Halfon accuses me of "bare faced cheek" over the economy because I accused the Tories of opposing the Governments fiscal stimulus designed to get the economy moving and help the unemployed (Letters, October 1). I stand by my accusation.

Perhaps Mr Halfon has forgotten David Cameron saying earlier this year: "Don't cut VAT, don't have a fiscal stimulus, we have got to focus on the debt, we can't afford all this spending and all this borrowing". Yet he can find the money to commit to an inheritance tax for Britain's 3,000 wealthiest families.

Mr Halfon should also listen to respected independent economists, like Paul Krugman, the 2008 Nobel Prize winner, who said: "Renouncing a fiscal stimulus when private spending is contracting is strange. Governments have very few tools at their disposal and Cameron wants to not use them." Asked whether the recession would be worse if we followed Cameron's advice, Krugman said: "Yes, for sure."

Or Professor David Blanchflower, former member of the Bank of England Monetary Policy Committee, who when talking about Tory policies said: "Their plans are not credible... their big proposal is to cut public spending, namely public sector pay and jobs... unemployment will explode under your lack of a plan for jobs, Mr Osborne."

If the Tories had their way and no fiscal support had been given, the recession would have been longer and deeper with more unemployment and more debt.

This survey is a waste of money

SIR, I am appalled at the decision of Harlow Council to employ an independent research company to conduct a survey of 250 people to find out how to spend our council tax money (Star, October 8).

They can rest assured that of the 78,000 people living in the town, at least 77,500 would tell them not to spend money in this ridiculous fashion.

This administration has continually claimed there is a shortage of money. That is why they said they had to cut funding to the Welfare Rights and Advice Centre, to a great many charities and reduce services at the Leah Manning Centre.

Yet here they are going to spend money on asking how to spend money. If this wasn't so serious it would make a wonderful comedy TV show.

We elect councillors to make decisions on our behalf. If this administration is so incompetent that they do not know what to do then they should ask the help of the elected opposition parties or resign from office.

I can tell them that there is one area where they can save money and that is giving up their expenses for a year or two. Then, maybe, they will be able to cut the rents as required.

Les Coben, chairman
Harlow Pensioners Action Association
Wych Elm, Harlow

Tenants helped by rates change

SIR, Councillor Simon Carter was right to credit Bill Rammell for campaigning to get the interest rates for the Harlow Housing Revenue Account changed for this year (Letters, October 1).

This change benefited Harlow tenants by £900,000, which makes the fact that the Conservatives will not reduce rents for council tenants even more appalling.

For Harlow Tories to question the way the housing revenue account works is ridiculous since it was their Government which established it. That they cannot acknowledge this fact just shows how far removed from the truth they have become.

This week we hear that details of a Tory meeting on public housing where they would seek to equalise rents with the private sector, with average rents for council tenants jumping from around £60 per week to a national average of £132 per week. That they are refusing help for tenants when they are in power locally is demonstration that they haven't changed since the years of the 1980s. Imagine what they could do if they get into power nationally?

Labour heading for poll defeat

SIR, It seems that when MP Bill Rammell made the long journey from his main residence in Westminster and appeared on Terry Brandon's doorstep to offer support and advice (Letters, October 8), the "clear leadership" he offered was such that Mr Brandon was moved to share the good news with Star readers.

Unfortunately it seems that either Mr Rammell is unaware that Mr Brandon is one of his main supporters with letters to the local press in his support and, I assume, an active member of the local Labour Party or once again he is running scared of facing the electorate as he did over the recent expenses scandal and has chosen the easy option of preaching to the converted.

I notice that Mr Brandon's good news letter actually made no mention of future Labour plans or big ideas, possibly because they have none. Is it any wonder they are 17 points behind in the opinion polls and Mr Rammell is heading for certain defeat in a few months time?

Washing hands can save lives

SIR, So the toilets at Henry Moore Primary School have at last been mended (Star, October 8). A good thing too. Having to walk across the school grounds to the main building must have been very frustrating.

Quite appropriately, today is Global Handwashing Day. We are urged to tell our children the best way to kill bacteria is to wash our hands with soap, particularly after going to the toilet.

Millions of children in other countries do not have the luxury of washrooms on site. Poor sanitation and overcrowded conditions are a breeding ground for disease and more than 3.5 million children die each year from pneumonia and diarrhoeal disease. Both are preventable and treatable; according to UNICEF, simple hand washing with soap could save over a million lives a year.

Water is a precious commodity in those countries but most households have soap. However, they tend to use it mainly for clothes washing and cleaning. Educating them to use it for handwashing results in astonishing reductions in sickness.

Our Government targets 1.5 per cent of its international aid to sanitation and water but little is directed to hygiene education, which is what is needed to change habits and save lives. Let's persuade them to give more priority to this life-saving measure.

Advice to help students keep finances in check

KEEPING on top of your bank balance and planning a budget are essential, students have been warned – particularly as some business leaders push for students to pay higher fees.

As part of our partnership with Barclays Money Skills to help readers make the most of their finances, the Star has asked a student advice expert to help undergraduates survive freshers' week – and beyond – without putting an undue strain on bank balances.

Julia Manley, senior student money adviser at Anglia Ruskin University, said many first-year students struggled with their money for the first time, not least because of spending too much on nights out.

She said: "A large number of students come to see my team about financial problems, and many of them have absolutely no idea how much funding they receive."

"Some of these problems are due to too much socialising, especially during the first term. Having said that, it is hard being away from home for the first time."

"A student on full funding could receive around £2,000 for their first payment, which can seem like a large amount, but of course isn't when it has to last three or four months."

Mrs Manley advised students to record their income, such as

- Keep an eye on what you spend on nights out
- Make sure you save enough of your loan money to tide you over until the next instalment
- Record how much money you spend and how much income you are bringing in
- Buy second-hand books to save money
- Consider getting a job while away from university to boost your CV and your income student grants and income from part-time work, against their expenditure on items such as rent, food, bills and travel and know where they can get help.

"If you think you are getting into difficulties, seek help sooner rather than later," she said.

Undergraduates are also advised to check out what bursaries and scholarships are available.

Costs can also be cut by buying a Young Person's rail card for reduced train travel, while course books can often be bought second-hand to avoid paying full prices.

Marie-Claire Berreen, Barclays' community investment manager for the region, said: "Socialising is a massive part of student life, but it doesn't have to be a huge expense."

"Why not invite your friends round for a dinner party and task them all with making and bringing a dish? This can be great fun and you'll save a few pounds in the process."

Jet-setting Ken up for Euro challenge

HARLOW Rugby Club membership secretary Ken Potter is preparing for a 6,000-mile sponsored flyathon – dubbed the 666 Adventure – around six European countries in aid of St Clare Hospice.

Mr Potter will visit six destinations – Dublin, Oslo, Pisa, Marseille, Glasgow and Frankfurt – on six consecutive days, starting on November 16.

He will be flying to and from Stansted Airport each day and travelling to each destination's city hall before returning home each night.

Mr Potter has recovered from a life-threatening illness diagnosed 12 months ago and is keen to repay the care and attention he received.

Anyone wanting to pledge sponsorship can do so by visiting www.justgiving.com/Ken-Potter.

Lawyer's surgery

A SOLICITOR will be giving free legal advice on education, child and family law matters at Harlow MP Bill Rammell's drop-in surgery on Saturday.

Claire Frazer, of the Children's Legal Centre, will be at the Harlow Advice Centre from 10am-noon.

"The purpose of the surgery is to answer any questions people may have," said Claire. "Many people don't realise they can get legal advice on issues like bullying."

Pub collects gifts for needy kids

THE season of goodwill is coming early to an Old Harlow pub which is collecting Christmas gifts for children around the world.

The Marquis of Granby, in Fore Street, will be a centre for Operation Christmas Child which distributes presents to disadvantaged youngsters.

The pub is encouraging locals to fill shoeboxes with gifts suitable for 2-14 year-old girls and boys which will then be transported all over the world.

Jon Tummons, the pub's general manager, said: "We're delighted to be supporting such a worthwhile campaign and we'll be doing everything we can to spread festive cheer and put a smile on the faces of children in the most desperate situations around the world."

"Choosing gifts for the children is the perfect activity to kick off the festive season and capture some real Christmas spirit."

Suggestions include toy cars, small musical instruments, puzzles, sunglasses and felt tip pens for boys and dolls, costume jewellery, hair bands and toiletries for girls.

Boxes should be taken to the pub before November 18 to allow time for transportation.

Work starts on 'vital' upgrade of access route

PREPARATORY work on a multi-million pound scheme to ease traffic congestion by dualling a section of one of Harlow's busiest roads got under way this week.

County transport chiefs say the project to widen the stretch of the A414 between Southern Way and junction seven of the M11 at Hastingwood will provide motorists with a faster and more convenient access to the town.

As part of the £9.9m scheme, which is being driven by Essex County Council with cash from the Government's Community Infrastructure Fund, new traffic signals will be introduced in Southern Way to maximise the benefits of the road dualling.

Initial works, which started on Monday, involve the clearance of vegetation along with some environmental improvements including the installation of a short length of reptile fencing to protect local wildlife.

The main work is due to commence later this year with a completion date set for March 2011.

"This is a vital scheme as Harlow is set to grow by some 16,000 homes in the near future," said a county council spokesman. "It is imperative that transport systems are in place to facilitate this growth and support investment in the area."

Norman Hume, cabinet member for highways and transportation, said: "I am very pleased that work on the scheme has started as it will unblock a key access and exit route from Harlow which holds the town back from reaching its full potential."

"The scheme also has many benefits in terms of job creation and facilitating the growth of Harlow."

First meeting of faith forum

A NEW public forum to build mutual understanding between the town's various faith groups has been launched in Harlow.

Harlow Faith Forum, which aims to develop respect between different religious groups by tackling ignorance, prejudice and misunderstanding, held its first session at the Civic Centre yesterday (Wednesday).

Harlow Council chairman Edna Stevens was due to open the inaugural meeting which also included a question-and-answer session on co-existence.

Rabbi Irit Shillor said: "The aim is to give people of faith a place to get together and help them come to mutual understanding. There needs to be some sort of cohesion in different faith groups."

"It has the makings of being a success. I would like to see three or four meetings a year."

Rev Mark Bennet, of St Mary's Church, added: "The forum will help people understand how to talk confidently with people of different faiths."

"Faith communities in Harlow are fairly disparate at the moment but have started talking and engaging more with each other."

As Harlow grows and evolves, the forum aims to ensure faith has a place in the lives of the town's residents.

Mr Bennet added: "With so much going on in Harlow and it changing so much, it is important that the place of faith in the town is not forgotten. A large proportion of Harlow is religious and we aim to build relations and draw them together."

Party time at town pet store

PET owners were invited to join the celebrations at a Harlow store when it marked its 10th anniversary in the town.

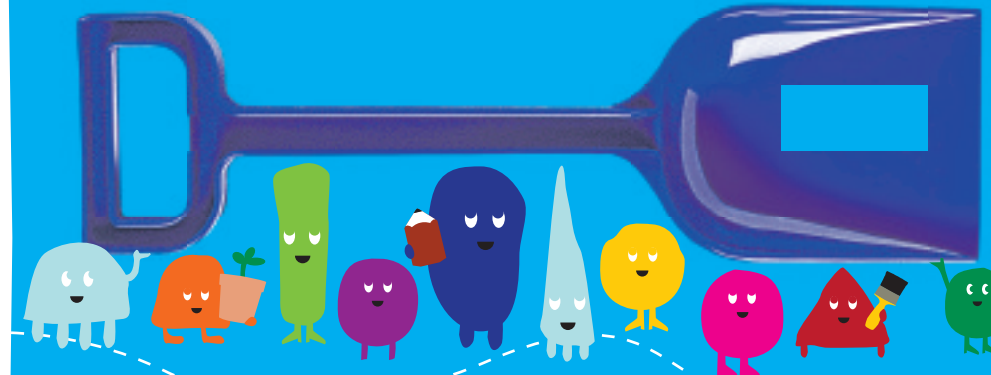

Pets At Home, in Edinburgh Way, held a weekend-long party during which customers were offered 20 per cent off pet products and a slice of birthday cake. For children there was face-painting and balloon-modelling.

The store's charity partners – Southern Lurcher Rescue, which helps to find new homes for Lurcher dogs in need, and Aunty Animal Rescue – were also on hand to promote their work.

Manager Martyn Long said: "The birthday party was our way of saying a big thank you to pet lovers in Harlow for their support over the last 10 years."

"We're also delighted to celebrate the occasion with our charity partners and urge any other pet charities and re-homing centres in the area to get in touch to find out more about how the Support Adoption for Pets charity could help them."

Join Santa's fun run to raise sack of cash

JOIN THE QUEUE: Entries for the St Clare Hospice Santa Run have been flooding in since last week's launch

IT'S only been just over a week since the launch of the St Clare Hospice's fundraising Santa Run but already entries are flooding in.

The run, which is supported by the Star, will take place at the Showground in Harlow Town Park.

Hundreds of adults and children dressed as Santa are expected to take part – and this your chance to join in the fun.

The route is approximately 4km, less than half the distance of the summer's Midnight Walk which was so successful. And you can run it, jog it, walk it or wheel it!

"I feel it's really important for us to put on events which are fun and are about enjoying yourself whilst raising money for a cause which is about helping people to enjoy life, even when faced with a life limiting illness," said St Clare events fundraiser Tracy Meale.

"We are hoping that with the shorter distance this event will be open to as many people as possible, including Hospice communications manager Giles Wright said: "Our work continues all year round, provided free of charge to hundreds of local people, which last year included over 250 patients from Harlow alone.

"With an annual running cost of £2.5m and only 30 per cent NHS funded, we heavily rely on the generosity of our local community to enable us to keep going."

It is hoped the Santa Run will raise £23,000, enough to fund the in-patient unit, which can care for up to eight patients at any one time, for a whole week. It also provides much needed support to their friends and families.

Although Christmas may seem a long way off, the Santa Run takes place on Sunday, December 6 (starting at 11am) which is only seven weeks away.

Police appeal for help to ID train assault suspect

POLICE investigating an indecent assault on a woman on board a London-bound Stansted Express train have released this CCTV image of a man they want to question.

The incident took place at 9.40pm on Friday, August 7 when the victim was approached by a man who placed his hand inside her bag.

When she pulled the bag away from him he started making suggestive remarks and then touched her indecently.

The victim pushed him away, at which point he became verbally abusive and shouted at her. Both got off the train at Liverpool Street station.

Police believe the man could be from the north London, Hertfordshire or Essex areas. He is described as black, aged 17-24, around 5ft 8ins tall and of slim build.

Detective Constable Rory Durant, of the British Transport Police, said: "Although she was unharmed, this was obviously a very distressing incident for the victim who was simply trying to make her way home."

ST ALBAN'S: Staff and pupils at the First Avenue primary said farewell to popular school assistant Vicky Monk, who is leaving after 25 years.

She was showered with gifts and cards, including poems written by some of the children, during a special assembly held in her honour.

Mrs Monk has a long history with the school she calls "another home" and both her husband and children were former pupils. She said: "The assembly was really lovely and working here was been wonderful.

THE DOWNS: The Bishop of Barking, the Rt Rev David Hawkins, was guest of honour at a special presentation held at the primary school in The Hides.

The bishop handed school blazers and badges to the school's head boy and head girl, and jumpers to the prefects and the heads of houses.

This is the first year that the uniforms have been presented at a special assembly and 30 parents turned up to watch their children receive the items of clothing. The new uniforms were introduced by headteacher David Yeld who joined the school two years ago.

Senior teaching assistant Chris Stammers said of the ceremony: "It was lovely and the bishop was fantastic. We will be repeating this at the beginning of every school year."

LEAPFROG NURSERY: Children at the day nursery in The Greenway collected four boxes of gifts to present to homeless charity Streets2Homes.

The collection was part of the nursery's harvest festival celebrations.

The charity's chairman, Harlow councillor Simon Carter, visited the nursery to pick up the boxes.

Nursery manager Louise Christie said: "We wanted to celebrate harvest festival in a different way this year so we contacted some charities."

"Streets2Homes was one of the charities that got back to us. It was educating for children to realise that not everybody is as fortunate as us."

ST MARK'S: Supportive students have been recognised for their work as peer mentors at the Essex Criminal Justice 2009 Awards.

They received a commendation of excellence for their work in offering support, advice and guidance to their peers, who sometimes prefer to confide in someone closer to their age group than members of staff.

Poor self-esteem, friendship difficulties, bullying and coping strategies are just some of the areas addressed by the peer mentors, who run twice-weekly drop-in sessions during lunchtime and visit younger pupils in their tutor groups.

A school spokeswoman said: "The school is very proud of the achievements of its peer mentors and buddies and is delighted that they have been recognised by the Essex Criminal Justice board."

CELEBRATING 20 years of trading this month, Mr Luigi's continues to go from strength to strength as more and more customers discover the very best fish and chips for miles around!

Owned and run by proprietors Luigi and Libby Forgione, the brothers have built up an enviable reputation for delicious fish and chips and have won numerous awards to prove it. Mr Luigi's has not only been voted "the number one take away in Harlow", but also the best fish and chips in Essex by a national newspaper. The business is also a previous winner and regular nominee for the much-coveted, national Fish & Chip Consumer Association's "Best Fish & Chip Experience" title and was the first fish and chip shop in Harlow to receive the gold award from the SEAFISH industry in 2007.

Luigi and Libby opened Mr Luigi's at The Stow in Harlow in 1989 and are still based in the same premises today. In fact many of the friendly staff have worked here for many years and customers have become friends over time.

"Numerous customers who were using us 20 years ago are still using us today as are their grown up children and their young families." Commented Luigi.

"The secret lies in the freshness of the food. The food does not wait for the customer here - the customer waits for the food" he added.

As well as fish and chips, Mr Luigi's also offers burgers, ribs, chicken, pies, family meals and children's portions. There is also an interesting selection of sundries and side dishes to choose from, all cooked to the same high standards. Parties, large and small can be catered for and there is also a delivery service. You may have seen the business's Smart cars with their instantly recognisable logos in and around Harlow out and about on their delivery service.

Mr Luigi's is open Monday to Friday from 11.30am until 10pm and on Saturdays from 11.30 to 9pm. Bank holidays from 4pm - 10pm. Mr Luigi's now accepts credit cards.

Dinosaurs that left footprint in history

FOSSIL hunters in France have unearthed some of the biggest dinosaur footprints ever discovered.

The enormous prints are thought to have been made about 150 million years ago by sauropods – long-necked dinosaurs which fed only on vegetation – in chalky sediment in the Jura mountains on the border between France and Switzerland.

The footprints measure 1.5 metres in width which suggests they were made by a creature that was over 25 metres long and weighed about 30 tonnes.

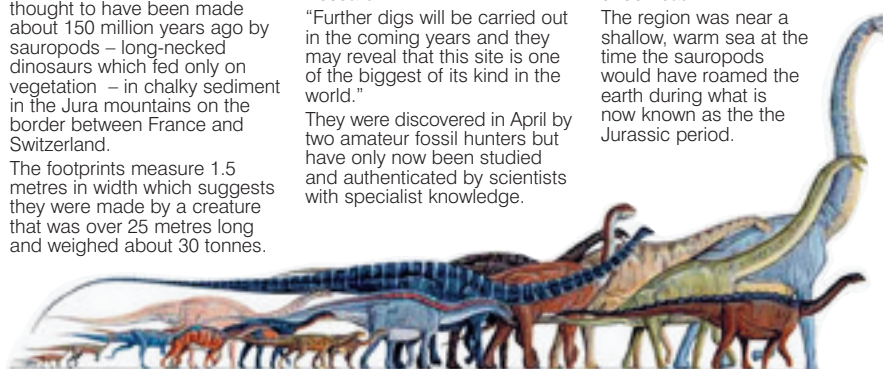

Experts have described the find as exceptional. "The tracks formed by the footprints extend over dozens, even hundreds, of metres," said a spokesman for National Centre for Scientific Research.

"Further digs will be carried out in the coming years and they may reveal that this site is one of the biggest of its kind in the world."

They were discovered in April by two amateur fossil hunters but have only now been studied and authenticated by scientists with specialist knowledge.

The footprints were preserved by a rock-hard layer of sediment that had formed over millions of years and were only revealed after trees being cut down in the area exposed the earth underneath.

The region was near a shallow, warm sea at the time the sauropods would have roamed the earth during what is now known as the the Jurassic period.

Carers group in plea for help

A VOLUNTEER carer organisation in Harlow is looking to recruit new committee members who have experience of working with children and an eye for business.

Caring for Harlow Carers offers information and support to both adults and children who are caring for a family member or friend who is ill, frail or disabled.

It also formed Harlow Young Carers which has seen a rapid growth in the demand for its services over past two years, with the number of young people attending its weekly Young Carers' Club more than doubling.

It has also started a drop-in service at two local schools and it is hoped that this can be continued into the future, subject to funding.

CHC support worker Isobel Atkinson said: "The group needs an enthusiastic trustee who has experience with children or young people, an awareness of child protection issues and some understanding of the issues that may affect disadvantaged young people.

"The charity also needs someone who could bring some business or finance skills to the management committee, which has responsibility for the overall strategy and policies of the charity and for the employment of staff."

Anyone wanting to find out more should contact Caring for Harlow Carers on (01279) 308314 or email carers@harlowcarers.org.uk.

Time to choose primary schools

TIME is running out for parents who have yet to apply for primary school places next year.

By SARAH HUNT
star@hertsessexnews.co.uk

Essex County Council has reminded parents and carers of children born between September 1, 2005 and August 31, 2006 that they must apply now for youngsters who are due to start school in September 2010.

Councillor Stephen Castle, cabinet member for education at County Hall, said this week: "Choosing the right school for your child is an important decision and I would urge parents to start the application process as early as possible."

With a deadline of November 30 looming, parents are being warned that late applications will receive lower priority and are considered after ones submitted before the deadline.

"This year over 90 per cent of parents obtained their first or second choice of school, so give yourself the best opportunity of securing one of your preferences by submitting your application on time."

Applications for reception places in primary schools can be submitted via the website at www.essex.gov.uk/admissions.

Parents can also use the website to search for school information, read OFSTED reports and check admissions criteria.

Parents and carers are advised to indicate more than one preference and to include their catchment school as one of their preferences.

Those preferring to make a written application should call (0845) 603 2200 to request a form.

Baby transfer service extended to 24 hours

POORLY newborn babies now have a dedicated round-the-clock service to transfer them to specialist care, after the Acute Neonatal Transfer Service extended its hours.

Last year the service, which covers hospitals in Essex and other counties in the east of England, transferred 760 babies between the region's 18 maternity units or to specialist hospitals out of the area.

Since its launch in 2003, ANTS has been funded to run in the daytime but from last week it became available 24 hours a day.

Dr Kate Farrer, ANTS lead consultant, said: "Specialist teams of nurses, doctors and drivers using dedicated equipment achieve transfers more safely, leaving staff in the referring units to look after the more stable babies. "We're delighted to be able to launch the extension of the service to cover the night as well as the day – it has been eagerly awaited."

ANTS is overseen and operated by a partnership involving the East of England Perinatal Network, the East of England Specialised Commissioning Group, the East of England Ambulance Trust and Cambridge University Hospitals.

Diamond couple found love on the dance floor

A COUPLE whose eyes met across the dance floor more than 60 years ago will today (Thursday) celebrate their diamond wedding anniversary.

Peter and Joy Perry, of Jerounds, Harlow, met at a dance in Bishop's Stortford in 1947 shortly after Mr Perry left the Army.

The couple, who have always lived locally, tied the knot two years later at Epping Register Office. They now have three daughters, 12 grandchildren and 22 great-grandchildren.

They will be celebrating their special day with a family meal at Barrows Farm Stadium.

Mr Perry said their marriage had lasted the test of time because they both respected and supported each other through thick and thin.

"I'm the quiet type so I just try and keep my head down when the wife's nagging and stay out of trouble!" he quipped.

"But seriously, we've had our ups and downs like any other couple and it's really been a question of give and take over the years.

"We must have done something right to have lasted this long!"

New arrivals boost centre

HARLOW town centre continues to buck the economic downturn with the arrival of two new businesses.

D&Q Weddings has been trading in the Harvey Centre for two weeks while Café Harvey, located opposite The Works, is due to open next month.

They join eight new stores and two shop relocations at the centre over the past year.

Fiona Wright, retail asset manager for Harvey Centre owners The

By SARAH HUNT
star@hertsessexnews.co.uk

Sapphire Retail Fund said: "Our task in 2009 was to continue to deliver a retail mix that offered mid-range to value products that would attract the diverse shoppers we were already appealing to and complement existing retailers."

It has added to the centre's five existing anchor stores – Marks & Spencer, Primark, BHS, Wilkinson and Tesco – by signing deals with Linens Direct, Retro Shop, Quasar Elite, Gimme Gizmo and Hawkins Bazaar, all of which opened this year.

It also secured the opening of a second branch of Changing Rooms in September and negotiated deals for the relocation of Rose Optometrists and 3Darts Comics to bigger premises within the centre.

Martin Crossley, of joint letting agents King Sturge, said Harlow is a town where diverse retailers can successfully exist side-by-side.

"There are not many occasions where you would recommend such a wide range of retailers in one 500,000 sq.ft. scheme but in Harlow it works well.

"Being able to draw customers from Harlow and the surrounding towns illustrates the benefits of a strong mix of retailers."

Mr Crossley said the marketing team has been successfully pushing the boundaries of the catchment area over the past two years.

"Recent research shows that while the core catchment area is Harlow, there is equal visitation from areas as far afield as Cambridge, Braintree, Chelmsford, Chingford and Stevenage.

"It's this that drives the 13-million-plus footfall that we received in 2008."

Head of housing services to address tenants forum

COUNCIL tenants and private leaseholders will get the chance to have their say on housing issues at a conference in Harlow on Saturday.

The annual Tenant and Leaseholder Conference takes place at the Latton Bush Centre, in Southern Way, from 10am-1pm.

Workshops taking place during the conference will provide an opportunity for residents to air their views on various subjects including estates and environment, tenant engagement and repairs and maintenance.

Guest speakers will be Andrew Murray, head of Harlow Council's housing services, and councillor Lee Dangerfield, chairman of the housing committee.

Anyone wanting to attend the conference but who needs transport to and from the venue should contact the council on (01279) 446470. For further information about the event, call Contact Harlow on (01279) 446655 or email contact@harlow.gov.uk.

Celebrating with a taste of Africa

VISITORS to a fun-packed international food fair got a real taste of Africa on Sunday.

The event was held at the United Reform Church, in Harberts Road, where signature dishes from countries including South Africa, Ghana, Kenya and Togo were on offer as part of Harlow's Black History Month celebrations.

Visitors were also treated to a fashion show and were entertained by performances of traditional African music and dance.

Organiser Margaret Osei-Bons told the Star: "We had around 180 people turn up on the day and they all had a fantastic time sampling different foods from across Africa."

"The fashion show was a big hit with visitors and the live music performances were excellent. It's just a shame that a lack of publicity meant we did not have even more people turn up to enjoy what was a really fun event."

The celebrations continue on Sunday at Holy Cross Church Hall, in Traces Road, where visitors can try their hand at a number of African and Caribbean games from 2-5pm.

Admission to the event is free and no booking is necessary. For more information, contact Margaret on (07529) 230553.

what's on at The Square

DON'T miss your chance to see some of the home-grown stars of tomorrow when talented young bands from Harlow's secondary schools battle it out for your aural pleasure tonight (Thursday).

Then be sure to bring your bling tomorrow (Friday) for the venue's first-ever hip-hop night featuring a choice selection of local MCs and DJs including Dlate10stopz, DJ Shrapnel and the snappily-monikered Mix Master Bob.

Saturday night and the scene shifts again as the storm clouds gather for an evening of ear-bleedingly brilliant heavy metal. Cinders Fall, Scar My Eyes, Shellshock and Callous will pummel your brain into submission with thunderous riffery and dodgy make-up.

Then, if all the weekend's excitement gets a bit too much, why not wind down on Sunday evening with the (Mostly) Blues Jam? With a full backline provided by those generous chaps at Tones Music Store, all you need to bring to the stage is your talent, ego and a pack of blister plasters for your sore fingers.

Gallery showcases pupils' photos

A FASCINATING exhibition of photographs taken by local schoolchildren opened at Harlow's Gibberd Gallery this week.

Year 5 children from schools across the town who were encouraged to take snapshots of their daily routines. The result is a selection of photos which offer an intriguing insight into the youngsters' views of their own life.

Malcolm Tinn, president of Harlow Photographic Society said: "The response from the pupils and teachers was brilliant. From the hundreds of photographs the children took it was very difficult in choosing just 80 images for the

Actor Greg gets ready for RADA

By SARAH HUNT
star@hertsessexnews.co.uk

A PROMISING young actor from Harlow has battled his way through tough competition to win a coveted place at the most prestigious drama school in the United Kingdom.

Former Phoenix Theatre School star Greg Baxter is about to embark on a three-year course at the Royal Academy of Dramatic Art where he hopes to emulate the success of a string of star former pupils including Kenneth Branagh, Anthony Hopkins and Alan Rickman.

The excited 21-year-old said: "I'm absolutely thrilled that I've been given the opportunity to continue my training at RADA."

"The skills and experiences I received from the theatre school, whether it was on stage or during class, have been incredibly useful and I will certainly be taking them with me."

A stalwart of Harlow's performing arts scene, Greg has been with Phoenix for more than three years and has starred in many hit shows and classic pantomimes at The Playhouse including Oliver!, Robin Hood and Romeo & Juliet.

His new adventure begins as Phoenix prepares for the start of its new season following the phenomenal success of its debut production of Peter Pan at The Playhouse in September.

School principal and former Playhouse manager Phil Dale said: "I'm incredibly proud of all of Phoenix's former students, especially those who have taken the school's training and used it to further their careers."

"I know that Greg's association with the school will continue for many years and he will be a constant source of inspiration to current and future students."

GREG BAXTER: "I'm absolutely thrilled that I've been given the opportunity to continue my training at RADA"

Emotional conflicts at centre of critically acclaimed drama

INTERNATIONAL star of stage and screen Hildegaard Neil leads the cast of a hilarious new comedy drama coming to The Playhouse.

Bishop's Stortford playwright Stephen Hunt's award-winning Impossible Steps stars Neil and Rosalind Blessed - daughter of actor Brian Blessed - as two women engaged in a monumental battle of the sexes played out against the romantic backdrop of Rome.

One woman, a passionate Italian, is struggling to breathe new life into an emotionless relationship with a callous partner while the other, an American tourist, is pestered by a man who bombards her with bizarre questions until she begins to doubt her own identity.

There are two performances of the play - next Friday (October 23) and Saturday - starting at 7.30pm. Tickets cost £12 (£9 concessions) and are available from the box office on (01279) 431945.

what's on at The Playhouse

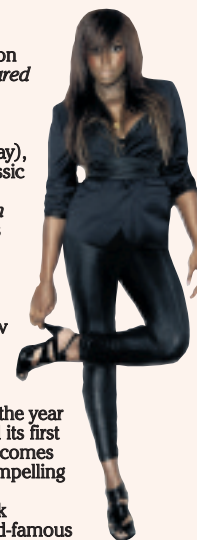

COMEDY: Comedian Andy Parsons, a regular panellist on BBC 2's Mock The Week, will be performing his own brand of stand-up political satire at The Playhouse tonight (Thursday). The show starts at 8pm and tickets cost £15.

MUSIC: Sultry UK soul sensation Mica Paris, pictured right, will be in concert at The Playhouse tomorrow (Friday), performing classic hits such as My One Temptation alongside tracks from her hotly-anticipated comeback album Born Again. The show starts at 8pm and tickets cost £20.

MUSICAL: In the year America elected its first black president comes the true and compelling story of another pioneering black American, world-famous actor and singer Paul Robeson. The award-winning Call Me Mr Robeson charts the remarkable story of a man branded a traitor to his country when he dared challenge the institutionalised racism rife at the heart of early 20th century US society. Saturday's show at The Playhouse begins at 8pm and tickets cost £14 (£12 concessions).

MUSIC: The Playhouse's popular Music On A Sunday programme continues this weekend with a performance by the world-renowned Kungsbacka Piano Trio. Named after the town in Sweden where the ensemble gave their first performance, the group will perform a series of inspiring and dynamic works. The 7pm concert is preceded by a talk at 6pm on the way folk music influenced the composers and works featured. Tickets cost £14 (£5 for under-25s).

DANCE: Talented youngsters from the Academy Performing Arts School present their annual showcase with songs and dances from popular musicals including Oliver!, We Will Rock You and Mamma Mia! at The Playhouse on Wednesday and Thursday evenings. The shows start at 7pm on both nights and tickets cost £14 (£10 children).

LOVE HAPPENS

Aaron Eckhart stars as a grief-stricken widower who falls in love with a florist (Jennifer Aniston) while promoting the best-selling self-help book he wrote to get over his loss.

ZOMBIELAND Horror comedy set in a post-apocalyptic America, which has been ravaged by a zombie plague. Most of the population has been transformed into the marauding undead and the few survivors band together to fend off the slaving, flesh-eating hordes. Four of them head for the sanctuary of an amusement park, but quickly discover the site is overrun by carnivorous predators hungry for human blood.

THE INVENTION OF LYING

Ricky Gervais' new comedy, co-written and co-directed by Matthew Robinson, is mean-spirited, misconceived and starved of big laughs. Gervais casts himself in the lead role as an unsympathetic and unconvincing romantic but the notion that Jennifer Garner's acid-tongued beauty might succumb to his so-called charms is more laughable than anything in the script.

FAME The update of the 1980 smash hit sees 10 young students seeking to fulfil their dream at the NYC High School of Performing Arts. It's like a gritty version of High School Musical, without the basketball.

CLOUDY WITH A CHANCE OF MEATBALLS (2D)

Computer-generated animation about an inventor whose contraption causes food to rain from the sky and an inexperienced weathergirl who is asked to cover this meteorological phenomenon.

NIGHT AT THE MUSEUM 2

The story switches to the largest museum complex in the world, the Smithsonian Institution in Washington DC, where revived pharaoh Kahmunrah aims to take over the world.

INKHEART Based on the best-selling novel by Cornelia Funke, Inkheart is a fantastical family adventure about a secret class – the Silvertongues – who possess the power to literally bring books to life. But for every fictional character allowed to leap across the divide, a real person must take their place.

COUPLES RETREAT certificate 15 1h13m

LOVE is a battlefield and in Peter Billingsley's vapid comedy enemy lines are drawn on one of the most beautiful locations on the planet.

Filmed on the remote Pacific Ocean island of Bora Bora, part of French Polynesia, Couples Retreat is a flimsy excuse for best buddies Vince Vaughn and Jon Favreau to enjoy a free holiday with some of their acting mates.

Jason (Jason Bateman) and his wife Cynthia (Kristen Bell) are contemplating divorce and decide to give their relationship one last shot by attending the tropical resort of Eden, which offers seminars for married couples to rebuild love and trust.

Cynthia invites three couples – Dave (Vaughn) and wife Ronnie (Malin Akerman), Joey (Favreau) and wife Lucy (Kristin Davis) and Shane (Faizon Love) and new girlfriend Trudy (Kail Hawk) – to join her and Jason on the Pelican Package group rate.

While the potential divorcees rebuild their relationship, the friends can enjoy the jet-skis, diving and exquisite dining. But when the four couples arrive, they quickly discover that there is a catch – take part in the entire package or leave.

So all four couples take part in a programme of challenges designed by the enigmatic Monsieur Marcel (Jean Reno).

Couples Retreat is lots of filthy-minded pillow talk and the occasional heartfelt exchange between eight characters who fail to communicate with us and with each other. We feel nothing for these lovebirds as they blunder from misunderstanding to reconciliation.

Vaughn and Favreau's barrage of wisecracks is tiresome and the audience is left to focus instead on the picture-postcard locales, captured beautifully by cinematographer Eric Alan Edwards.

Pixar comes up with another classic

UP (3D & 2D) certificate U 1h42m

THE latest computer-animated masterpiece from the wizards at Pixar is an airborne adventure in the company of a cranky 78-year-old man and an excitable eight-year-old boy.

By turns hysterical and heartbreaking, this rumbustious romp is guaranteed to have even the hardest and most cynical soul choking back tears long after the lights go up.

The opening 10 minutes of Up are among the finest Pixar has ever crafted, introducing widower Carl Fredricksen (voiced by Ed Asner) via a montage of his childhood years and his subsequent marriage to soulmate Ellie (Elie Docter).

Alone in the world following Ellie's death, retired balloon salesman Carl refuses to be parted from the ramshackle house he built and shared with his late wife. So he ties thousands of brightly-coloured helium balloons to the roof, causing the property to break free of terra firma and take flight, to Paradise Falls in South America, where he and Ellie had always planned to visit. Unexpectedly, a Junior Wilderness Explorer called Russell (Jordan Nagai) is stranded on the porch as the house gains altitude and the plucky tyke nervously joins Carl on his big adventure.

The mismatched pair crash-land close to the Falls and encounter a talking dog called Dug (Bob Peterson), a 13ft tall flightless bird called Kevin and long-lost explorer Charles Muntz (Christopher Plummer), who was once Carl's childhood hero.

Up is another modern classic from Pixar and arguably their most sophisticated and adult film to date, although there is plenty to engage children.

(A414 Potter Street Bypass, Harlow & Epping Forest Districts) (Temporary 30MPH Speed Limit) Order 2009 &

The Essex County Council (London Road, North Weald Bassett) (Temporary Prohibition of Traffic) Order 2009 &

The Essex County Council (A414 Potter Street Bypass, Harlow & Epping Forest Districts) (Temporary Contraflow) Order 2009

Notice is hereby given that the Essex County Council intends, not less than seven days from the date of this notice, to make the above Orders under section 14(1) of the Road Traffic Regulation Act 1984.

Effect of the orders:

- To temporarily impose a 30mph speed restriction on that length of A414 Potter Street Bypass in the Parish of North Weald Bassett in the Districts of Epping Forest and Harlow from a point approximately 200 metres north of the junction with Southern Way, southwards to the junction with the M11, to include the full circulatory carriageway of the roundabout.
- 'The District of Harlow (Various Roads) (50mph, 40mph, Speed Limit) Order 2004' and 'The Essex County Council (A414/London Road, Harlow and Epping Forest District Council) (50MPH Speed Limit) Order 2003' are hereby temporarily suspended insofar as they relates to the above length of road. All other restrictions will remain in force.
- To temporarily close that length of London Road, in the Parish of North Weald Bassett in the District of Epping Forest as follows:

Road	Description	Lane	Permitted direction of travel
A414 Potter Street Bypass	SOUTHBOUND CARRIAGEWAY: from a point 200 metres north of the junction with Southern Way southwards along the A414 to a point 30 metres north of the intersection of the kerblines of the central island of Glovers Interchange (at Junction 7 M11) with the centreline of the A414.	1 - Inside Lane	SOUTHBOUND NORTHBOUND
		2 - Outside Lane
A414 Potter Street Bypass	NORTHBOUND CARRIAGEWAY: from a point 200 metres north of the junction with Southern Way southwards along the A414 to a point 30 metres north of the intersection of the kerblines of the central island of Glovers Interchange (at Junction 7 M11) with the centreline of the A414.	1 - Inside Lane	NORTHBOUND SOUTHBOUND
		2 - Outside Lane

The restrictions are scheduled to commence on 23 October 2009 for 18 months or where appropriate signs are showing and weather permitting.

The restrictions are required for the safety of the public and workforce whilst the construction of an additional carriageway and associated works are undertaken on the A414 Potter Street Bypass. Access for emergency service vehicles and pedestrians will be maintained at all times during the closure.

The Order will come into effect on 23 October 2009 and may continue in force for 18 months or until the works have been completed, whichever is the earlier.

(Mount Road, Theydon Mount) (Temporary 40mph Speed Limit) Order 2009

Notice is hereby given that the Essex County Council intends, not less than seven days from the date of this notice, to make the above Order under Section 14(1) of the Road Traffic Regulation Act 1984.

Effect of the order: To temporarily impose a 40mph Speed Limit on Mount Road, Theydon Mount, in the District of Epping Forest, from a point approximately 280 metres north of its junction with Epping Lane, north, for a distance of approximately 570 metres. The road is currently subject to the national speed limit.

The restriction is scheduled to commence on 26 October 2009 for 18 months, weather permitting or where appropriate signs are showing.

The above section of Mount Road spans the M25 and has site entrances both north and south of the M25 which are used as a works turnaround for vehicles being used in connection with the widening of the M25 (Junctions 27 - 30).

The need for a reduced speed limit has been identified in a road safety audit and is supported by Essex Police in the interests of public safety and also for operatives working on site.

The Order will come into operation on 26 October 2009 and may continue in force for 18 months or until the works have been completed, whichever is the earlier.

Dated: 15 October 2009.

Plumb finish as Ronnie seals GB judo gold

AN 18-year-old from Harlow claimed a gold medal in the junior men's over 100kg category at the British Judo Championships.

Harlow College student Ronnie Plumb had been unwell during the six weeks before the event at Sheffield but still won all four fights.

Plumb, far right, of Nicholls Field, said: "I was quite surprised as I have suffered from a chest infection for four weeks and only trained two weeks before the Championships. I was very pleased with the win."

There was no knock-out in Plumb's category as all fighters faced each other in a round-robin format.

Up to six minutes

(including two minutes of extra time) was allowed for each contest but Plumb disposed of all his four opponents within a minute.

Plumb, who was representing the Northern Home Counties, beat Sam Harvey (Eastern region) by an ippon throw in 51 seconds in his first fight before overcoming Nico Giulian (Northern region) and Jack Blythe (Southern region) by an ippon throws. Both these victories were recorded in just NINE seconds!

Plumb, who fights out of Redbridge Judo Club, then completed his unbeaten run with a 16-second win over Leuan Walters (Western region) This was achieved with an ippon throw.

Red card let-off for dire Hawks

Harlow Tn 0, Cheshunt 2

Ryman League, div one north

By ALAN SCOTT
 Sports Editor
alan.scott@hertsessexnews.co.uk

HAWKS boss Anthony Anstead kept his players locked in the dressing room for 90 minutes after Harlow Town and Cheshunt dished up a pre-Hallowe'en derby from hell.

Harlow Town were a shambles and deserved the 'hairdryer treatment' they clearly got from Anstead afterwards.

Admittedly Cheshunt were not much better.

However, they should have been playing 10 men for the remaining half an hour.

Hawks centre-half Herve Malimabue should have been red carded after punching Cheshunt substitute Graeme Dearie on 58 minutes.

He got away with it because the referee and his assistants failed to spot it.

Harlow gave a debut in central defence to former Luton Town midfielder Oliver Cleaver.

The visitors went in front after only 80 SECONDS. Malimabue gave away a cheap free-kick just outside the box and David Hicks curled the set-piece over the wall and into the right side of the net.

Hawks should have grabbed an equaliser on 36 minutes when

HEADS UP:
 Hawks debutant Oliver Cleaver challenges a Cheshunt player (HSP0601696).
 Inset, Herve Malimabue should have been sent off for punching Cheshunt sub Graeme Dearie a beautiful 45-yard ball from Jason Mason set Ashley Taylor-Forbes clear. But he passed to the offside Ola Akinnawo who stabbed the ball into the net as the assistant raised his flag.

There was controversy on 38 minutes when Ambers 6ft 5ins centre-half Ryan Dear brought down Taylor-Forbes in the box.

However, the referee amazingly waved play on!

Ryan Mattos then struck the Harlow bar with a speculative 30-yard shot on 40 minutes.

Ashley Robinson, a surprise choice at sub, came on to lead the attack after the break.

However, the football went from bad to worse.

Mattos had an effort cleared off the line by Cleaver on 50 minutes.

After Malimabue's assault on Dearie which prompted a 14-man fracas but the only player booked was Cheshunt's Bradley Harrison for dissent!

Harrison thought he had won his side a penalty on 65 minutes, but this was waved away, while a poor kick from Hawks keeper Jamie Waite gave Chris Meikle a great chance to make it 2-0 but he somehow failed to hit the target from close range.

Cheshunt finally brought a close to the disappointment with a second goal on 81 minutes. Angus McLachlan's turn of pace caught out the flat-footed Harlow defence and he fired low across goal and into the bottom right corner.

On 90 minutes, Harlow were again denied a penalty when Taylor-Forbes was upended.

Hawks boss Anthony Anstead said: "We had more possession than them but what we did with the possession was poor. We had more than enough opportunities to win the game."

"We were chasing the game after their first goal and their second one came against the run of play."

"Ashley Taylor-Forbes was rugby tackled in the box and the decision not to give a penalty changed the game."

HARLOW TN: Waite, Cleo, Anderson, Malimabue, Cleaver, Tambeson, Akinnawo (Robinson 45), Mason, Taylor-Forbes, Edwards (Dobson 90), Doolan (Lambert 84). Subs not used: Simpson, Green. Att: 231.

Poacher turns game keeper as Hawks grab draw

Hawks boss Anthony Anstead was pleased with his side as well as the role of Anthony Ferguson, whose half-time words stirred the team as they came back from the 2-0 deficit.

"I had my say about the game and then Anthony said about what we expected and what the club and fans expect," said Anstead.

"We were under the cosh and we then showed heart. In the first half we were timid and reacted to things but in the second half we made things happen and were pro-active. A psychological barrier has been removed to get to zero points [wiping out the 10 points deduction imposed by the Ryman League for financial irregularities]."

Harlow started brightly and Ijah Anderson fired a free-kick over the home bar before the hosts went ahead against the run of play on 14 minutes.

A ball down the right was not dealt with by Cleaver and Lee Underwood rifled in from 12 yards. Shortly after, Abraham turned a James Abbott shot round the near post. The stand-in stopper then acrobatically tipped an Underwood shot over the bar but from the resulting 32nd-minute corner, Abraham failed to gather and an unmarked Underwood nodded home his second.

Subsequent first-half action saw Underwood miss a great chance before Mason's free-kick was tipped over the home bar by Rhys Madden.

The fightback began three minutes into the second half when Mason's superb cross from the right was stabbed in by winger Ola Akinnawo, making amends for an earlier miss.

Maldon started to lose their fluency as Harlow's confidence grew.

Sub Steve Daly fired over when well placed on 70 minutes, before Harlow grabbed an equaliser on 78 minutes. Mason scored from a 23-yard free-kick awarded after Charlie Simpson was fouled.

HARLOW TN: Abraham 7, Green 6, Anderson 6 (Adegbite 37 7), Cleaver 6, Clarey 6, Tamberson 6, Akinnawo 6 (Dobson 70), Lambert 6, Doolan 5 (Edwards 87), Simpson 5, Mason 7. Sub not used: Anstead (gk). Yellow cards: Tambeson, Lambert (fouls). Att: 95.

Super Street in 11-goal feast

SUPER Potter Street struck 11 goals as Salvation Army (Harlow) came down to Earth with a bang in the Footprint Bishop's Stortford, Stansted & District Football League premier division.

R. Cook (4), S. Poole (3), N. Beard (3) and K. Wharton got the goals.

The spoils were shared when North Weald drew 1-1 at home to Hatfield Heath. Michael Fish scored for the hosts.

Alemite Athletic won by the odd goal in seven at home to Old Street. On target were Anthony James, Andy Pearce, Lewis Eaglestone and Steven Smith.

In division two, Albury thrashed Lower Street 5-1. Ros Campbell replied for Street.

Other results: premier div - Sheering 1, Loughton 4.

Div one - Alemite Ath res 0, Thorley Park 3 (Ben Simpson 3); Avondale Rangers 4, North Weald res 0; Birchinger 1 (Mark Thornton), Sheering res 0; Hatfield Heath reserves 3, Pelly House 2.

Div two - Frontiers 1, Hertfordshire Rangers 2; Heath Rovers res 2, Dunmow Rhodes 0; Thaxted Rangers res 2, Potter Street res 3.

Stimpson shines as team beat leaders

FULL-back Sarah Stimpson grabbed four tries as Harlow Ladies defeated league leaders Beckenham.

The Rams had lost their first two league games but their character shone through as they put in a tremendous performance to win on Sunday.

Harlow went ahead after a great inside pass from Abi Perry set up Stimpson who ran through to score under the posts. Emily Gizzi converted to make it 7-0.

Harlow defended well before a slick move from a line-out ended with Becky Conway popping up the ball to Stimpson who dashed over for her second try, converted by Gizzi.

A clever move from a penalty resulted in Nicola Millman setting up Davina Mclellan to burst through a huge gap for a try converted by Gizzi for 21-0.

After the break, Stimpson scored an excellent unconverted try.

Gizzi kicked a penalty following a maul offence by Beckenham before Stimpson ran the length of the pitch to score her fourth and final try after the ball had been slickly passed down the line.

The Rams now visit Braintree in the first round on Sunday November 15.

Harlow's backs scored all 10 tries against Southend. Scott Whitty (4), Tom Cunningham (3), Mitchell Sinfield (2) and Aaron Humphries all scored.

Harlow were 29-0 up at the break.

Harlow U-15s won 31-4 at Burnham-on-Crouch thanks to tries from Dominic Lane (3), George Foley and Josh Doe. Sonny Handscomb kicked three conversions.

Springwood can bounce back to win

Welcome to Inside Track, our column that gives you the reader an insight into Harlow Greyhound Stadium as our top tipster reveals his favourites for tomorrow (Friday October 16).

TO say SPRINGWOOD LINE was unlucky last week would be an understatement to say the least, as he was knocked from pillar to post and remarkably still managed to finish third. With anything like a clear passage tomorrow, he is expected to come home in front with plenty to spare. Fast-starting SMOOTH ROYAL can lead for a while and hang on for second.

BROTHER FITZ must be one of the most frustrating greyhounds in training with a string of second places to his name.

His main asset is his abundant stamina and if the gaps open up late he can use this ability to quicken into the lead.

The 9.45pm contest looks a slightly easier task for him and he can land a deserved success.

Selections:- 7.30pm Lijon Classic; 7.45pm Puff Doggy; 8pm Neat Gift; 8.15pm Ronnies Hawk; 8.30pm Kilmagner; 8.45pm Dogtor On Call; 9pm Fortfield Mac; 9.15pm Topper Bluebell; 9.30pm Millroad Magic; 9.45pm Brother Fitz; 10pm Springwood Line; 10.15pm Must Dash.

Defeat for squash side

THE winter season begin with a 3-2 defeat for Harlow Squash Club's first team at Harpenden in the Herts League division four.

Fifth string Andy Davis suffered a 1-3 loss.

Fourth string John Tennant went down in straight sets, as did third string Mike Symmons, still recovering from a recent injury and lacking full fitness.

Second string Dave Gear and first string Ian Gould won in straight sets.

Harlow's second team won 4-1 at Panshanger in division five.

Fourth string Rob Coghlan, third string Richard Lewis, second string Peter Izatt and first string Vinh Tram all won.

Harlow keep first clean sheet in year

THE unbeaten start to the season was maintained by a rampant Harlow who notched up a comfortable win at Havering – and kept their first clean sheet in a year!

Harlow controlled the match in midfield where they were able to keep possession and create regular chances. Equally as impressive was the defensive unit who seem to have gelled into the new formation implemented this year by captain Joe Symonds.

Havering kept large numbers of men behind the ball and looked to counter attack, frustrating Harlow in the early stages.

The deadlock was finally broken by Chris Shearman-Slack who, after being picked out by Smith, rounded the keeper and tucked the ball into the far corner with a delicate reverse stick strike.

Harlow continued to press forward and increased their lead after James Smith followed up a shot and fired home from the tightest of angles.

Stuart Kirk's precise strike from the top of the D into the far corner made it 3-0.

Shearman-Slack was sin-binned after the break for a clumsy challenge on the home side's captain.

But Lee Gorringer rounded off the victory with his first competitive goal for Harlow's first team after a hardworking display on the right wing.

HARLOW: Tovell, Castle, Plumridge, Jones, Symonds, Krzoska, Smith, Shearman-Slack, Gorringer, Kirk, Chandler.

Commonwealth quest for Osagie

GREAT Britain runner Andrew Osagie got an insight into the right ingredients needed to get to the top of his field – after an impromptu cooking session with TV chef Ainsley Harriott and former Olympic champion Dame Kelly Holmes!

The Harlow Athletic Club 800m runner has his sights firmly set on next year's Commonwealth Games in India and his coaching sessions with Athens Olympic gold medallist Dame Kelly Holmes are paying dividends.

The 21-year-old endured a difficult 2008 after sustaining a stress reaction in his left foot. He also suffered a setback in training at the start of this year – but all that misery is behind him following a super summer which culminated in an appearance at the Aviva international meeting in Gateshead.

After a series of pep talks with mentor Dame Kelly, Osagie bounced back to register a new personal best of 1 mins 47.15 secs and cruised to the Commonwealth qualifying standard time in the process.

And the St Mary's University student has vowed to repeat the trick next season in a bid to bag a place on the plane to Delhi.

"Dame Kelly gave me a real buzz by being there for me when I was injured and she was always checking up on me to see how I was getting on with the rehab," said Osagie,

SPICE BOY: Andrew Osagie, centre, gets some cooking tips from TV chef Ainsley Harriott as Dame Kelly Holmes looks on (S) who was speaking at the latest 'On Camp with Kelly' get-together, supported by Aviva.

"She has proved in her career that it can be done and you can come back from injuries.

"I would love to go out and run in India as it doesn't get much better than going out and experiencing new cultures and running for your country so I'll be trying really hard to make the team in October.

"Everyone was saying how well I'd done last season but I've still got the hunger to keep improving and to get the times down. The Commonwealths would be great for someone of my age trying to break through."

Last weekend, Osagie joined 45 youngsters in Birmingham for a cookery masterclass with Harriott, as part of Dame Kelly's mentoring initiative.

The day-long get-together was designed to help athletes and young people attending university learn about the importance of good nutrition for physical and mental performance.

Osagie admits his ambitions go further than securing a passage to India. "The Europeans are a bigger competition and that would be massive for me.

"Also the World Indoors would be a big achievement if I can make that first, that would tick a big box for me," he said.

"I still feel like I've got so much still to do and I can't wait to get back on the track."

Aviva have been supporting 'On Camp with Kelly' since 2004, providing the next generation of middle-distance runners with the unique opportunity to be better prepared to reach their sporting goals. Go to aviva.co.uk/athletics

On 33 minutes, Harlow's Luke Bowering was sin-binned for a dangerous tackle.

Colchester exploited the extra man and scored a converted try through Brambley, putting the hosts 19-5 up at half-time.

The home side dominated the first part of the second half, during which they scored four tries.

Peter Smith scored two tries and Brambley bagged a third try.

Nick Cooper-Hicks also ran through a try.

Harlow rallied well in the last quarter after the hosts were reduced to 14 men when a player was injured.

The Rams scored their second try on 73 minutes. A long kick was chased by Darren Hawkins to score.

Dobson kicked the conversion to round off the scoring.

Ladies blow two-goal lead as Forest fire up for victory

A TWO-goal lead was surrendered by Harlow as they slipped to a home defeat at the hands of leaders Waltham Forest II.

Forest exerted early pressure in Saturday's match before the hosts got into the game and the away keeper was forced to make a series of outstanding saves.

Forest had a goal disallowed on 18 minutes. Harlow's keeper Nicky Newland made a fine save at her near post and the visitors netted from the resulting short corner, only for the umpires to rule it was an illegal shot from the top of the circle.

The hosts went ahead seven minutes before the break from a slick four-player move. It ended with Carolyn Rushton's perfect through ball finding Georgina Esterhuysen, promoted from the seconds, who expertly rounded the keeper to slot home.

Harlow doubled their advantage five minutes after the break. Danni Moeser pushed the ball home from close range following a trade-mark short-corner routine from Rushton and Sonya Amos.

However, Forest were always in the game and pulled a goal back just three minutes later.

Encouraged, the visitors piled on the pressure and drew level halfway through the second period with their left winger scoring again.

Leaders thrash Rams

THERE were only crumbs of comfort for Harlow when they slipped to a heavy defeat at the hands of league leaders Colchester.

Colchester are a strong side and have very nimble backs who link well with their back row.

The Rams, missing experienced players Paul Eynon and Simon Vanbeck, competed well for parts of Saturday's game but could not match their quality over 80 minutes.

On the plus side,

Colchester 41, Harlow 12
RFU London & SE, div two north east

new fly-half Michael Dobson showed the potential to solve some of the problems in the Harlow back division.

Colchester went ahead on five minutes. A drive by their pack put hooker Phil Armitage over for an unconverted try. The hosts increased their advantage on 13 minutes when Damian Brambley went over for the first of three tries.

The conversion was kicked, putting the hosts 12-0 ahead.

Harlow still had a reasonable share of possession and they reduced the deficit on 23 minutes.

Dobson set up David Stradling and he cut outside two defenders before slipping a slick pass to Dan Hockley who touched down an unconverted try.

Axe marks the spot!

ANGRY: Hawks boss Anthony Anstead is set to axe 13 players (HSP0584745)

Hawks set to release players as boss gets tough

ANTHONY Anstead has taken a leaf out of Port Vale boss Micky Adams' book by using shock tactics to shake up his squad.

Anstead is set to release 13 players from his under-performing Harlow Town squad.

Vale boss Adams has seen his side go on a four-match unbeaten run in Coca-Cola League Two after putting the whole squad on the transfer list following a 3-1 defeat at Notts County.

Hawks boss Anstead has not taken that measure, but has told the players they will receive no payment if they lose.

Anstead was angered by the 2-0 home defeat against Cheshunt in the Ryman League division one north on Saturday.

He said: "I have made some tough decisions over the weekend and wrote an email to all the players.

"Currently our squad stands at 34 players. I have told them there are 21 places up for grabs."

He added: "I need a smaller, tighter unit that is going to battle for the club and a consistent starting 11."

"I have spoken to more Ryman-experienced players as I need Non-League soldiers, not Football League legends," he said.

"In the email I spelt out a list of new rules and ethics I expect from now on. The players will receive a win bonus, but it must be deserved."

"I have asked the club to retain half the budget for themselves to do with as they wish, and the other half can be kept in a separate pot from which I will pay bonuses and use for squad events."

He added: "This pot will grow over the next few months, allowing me to reward hard work."

Anstead feels he must take these actions to secure the club's future. "I am aware I will lose players, but I believe I will retain the right sort of player to secure the club's future," he said.

"It's time to stand up and be counted. When they prove they deserve it, they will be paid."

Anstead added: "All players play for free! If they win, they receive a win bonus [equal amount shared among the 16 that feature]. If they draw they share half the amount equally. If they lose they get nothing."

"The staff have only ever received nominal expenses. The coaches will receive nothing this week like everybody else. In fact Ant [Ferguson], Merv [Abraham], Mace [Glynn Mason] and I handed back the nominal amount we got last week anyway."

Poacher turns game keeper as Hawks grab draw

STRIKER and coach Mervyn Abraham had to don the goalkeeper's gloves after a bizarre injury to regular stopper Jamie Waite ruled him out of Tuesday's fightback as Hawks grabbed a vital point.

On the way to the game,

Maldon Tn 2, Harlow Tn 2
Ryman League, div one north

Waite was filling up at a petrol station when a passing motorcyclist was in a collision with him.

Waite then failed a late fitness test after suffering a leg injury. Coach Abraham, who was set to play up front, went in goal and although he was partly to blame for one of the goals, performed admirably.

Midfielder Jason Mason

went up front, while Damien Green came in at right-back for the suspended Joe Clemo.

New signing from Boreham Wood, central defender Lee Kersey, was ruled out with illness.
